

Unpaid internships are available in the Lieutenant Governor's Office for students who attend a California university, college or community college or a California resident who is home for the summer. This is an excellent opportunity for students who are interested in public policy or politics to gain a unique insight into California state government.

Interns are valued members of the Lieutenant Governor's team. Duties may range from assisting with high-level executive project assignments to providing key office support by answering phones, filing and drafting correspondence. Interns are expected to be able to commit to working at least 15 hours per week for a minimum of 10 weeks.

Although you may be qualified, there is a chance that you might not receive an interview if the positions are currently filled. If this is the case, your application will be kept on file for six months.
